

$2,600 FADES OUT WITH ITS OWNER'S DREAM OF TURKEY

Abe Masdafa, a native of Turkey, whose six hard years in the Pennsylvania coal mines had netted $2,600, and who dreamed of starting for the Old Country to-day to set up a harem and smoke genuine Turkish for the rest of his afternoons and evenings, is scouring the west side for the man who spoke to him in his native tongue on Saturday as Abe stepped out of the Union Dime Savings Bank at Sixth Avenue and 46th Street with the roll in an inside pocket.

When Mr. Masdafa reached his lodgings, at No. 400 West 46th Street, all he had was a bundle of sliced newspaper with a dollar bill on the outside.

When he stepped out of the bank, Masdafa says, he was approached by two men he had never seen before.

One said to him, in his native tongue: "Hello! Where are you going?" Abe told him all about the coal mines, the $2,600 and the dream. "I'm going back to Turkey," he said.

"That's funny," said the other Turk. "I'm going back myself!" The third man left them and the two Turks walked down Sixth Avenue discussing the happy coincidence.

Pretty soon the third man returned, breathless, excited, angry. "Damn you," he said to Abe Masdafa, "you've got my money; it's in Canadian bills."

"I haven't got a Canadian bill to my name," said Masdafa, "here, take my roll, see for yourself." The stranger took the $2,600, inspected it carefully while Abe and the other Turk discussed the stranger birds a fellow meets in America, and Abe thought, gave it back.

After reporting his loss at the West 37th Street Police Station Abe went sleuthing. One man, who looks like the longshoreman he claims to be, has been arrested. Abe says he was the non-Turkish-speaking man. The prisoner says "mistaken identity" and the police believe him.

Women Aid Bronx Hospital. With the indorsements of Gov. Smith and Health Commissioner Copeland, more than three thousand women volunteers will begin canvassing the city to-day for subscriptions to a $100,000 fund for the Bronx Hospital. The campaign is for 100,000 $1 subscriptions.

We are actually outdoing ourselves
in this Sale

Such Overcoats as these are scarce at any price to-day

Here is a sale out of a clear sky! Two weeks ago we little dreamed that we'd be able to gather 1000 Ulster-type Overcoats to sell at any price.

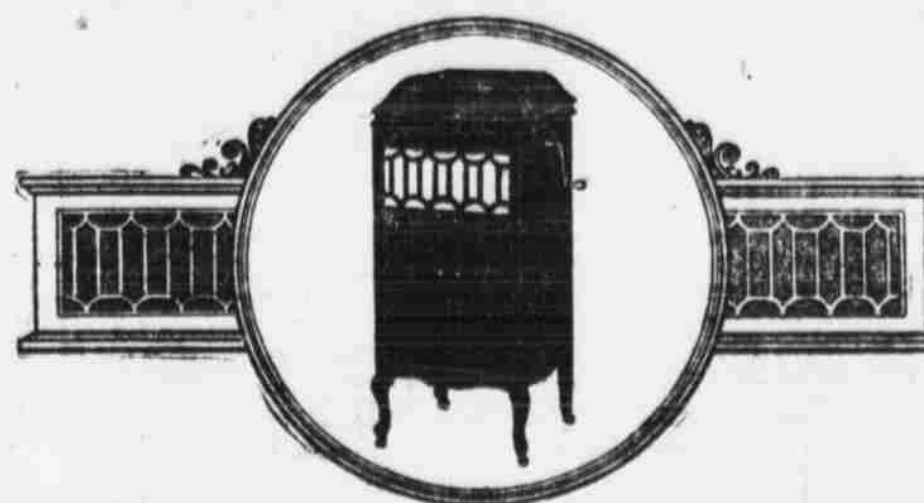

Usually the hardest kind of an Ulster to get is the dressy Ulster—the coat that's a compromise between the storm garment and the town garment. Yet that is what we have been fortunate enough to lay hand on in this sale.

The materials are those difficult-to-define Heathers in Grays, Greens and Browns. Some have plaid backs, some are satin lined and all have the new feature (mark this) of the three-pieced belt which can be used to girdle the body entirely or to serve as a back-belt. The sizes are from 34 to 42. In all truth, gentlemen, this is the most unusual sale that we have held in many months. We commend it to your attention to-day.

Ru-stella
The Phonograph with the "master made horn!"

Ready for immediate delivery

—that means that you get a phonograph and not a promise!

Other machines have been advertised as being "ready for delivery" in order to keep the name of the machine before the public. Upon investigation this statement was found to involve vagueness as to the time of delivery. In other words, they omitted to say "when."

We have no competition!

for we sell for cash only. We offer no alluring "convenient payment terms"—which accounts for the difference in price—and there is a difference! The "difference" amounts to about $25.00 on a "Ru-stella" at $42.50 and about $100.00 on a "Ru-stella" at $184.00. The three intermediate at $89.50, $129.00 and $159.00 represent proportionate savings. Moreover, the "Ru-stella" can be obtained only at this store. It is made under our supervision, according to our own specifications and backed by our broad two-year guarantee!

"The first one made"

is not always the "standard." You do not ride in a horse car. This is the reason the public is encouraging improvement and invention as represented by the "Ru-stella" phonograph—they signify their approval by paying cash. "Ru-stella" combines all the good qualities of other phonographs, and in addition features such improvements as the distinctive "master-made horn" (patent applied for) and the Universal tone arm, which plays all makes of records.

"Ru-stella" is here to stay!

This phonograph is not a makeshift to fill the general shortage of talking machines. It will stay as long as the public continues to endorse the need of better phonographs at a lower price for cash!

Each "Ru-stella" is backed by the reputation of this store, attained through almost 62 years of successful merchandising.
